5. If you are to start a software company, name 2 people from your batch whom you will choose as your partner and why?

I would like to choose Challa Jothiswar and Saraswathi as my team partners

They are my best companions and I done projects with both of them and we all think differently and stick into one decision which is best to complete the task.
They are my best companions. We have best coordination and we have knowledge to backup each other if required
